What if you could serve your patients better, do more of the dentistry you love, and make it easier for patients to say yes? Today's market is competing with the discretionary dollar, and we must increase the perception for value in our industry. This course identifies three secrets to increase your case acceptance. These are easy changes to implement with the team that will yield big results! In this course, we will also identify three questions we must help patients answer for themselves in order to say YES to treatment in your office.
